Te Whatu Ora Communications Primary, Community and Rural Early Actions Programme

Kia ora tatou

We are glad to be able to share with you an opportunity presented by Te Whatu Ora, with an open invitation to participate in a virtual hui that will provide an update on the Primary, Community and Rural Early Actions Programme.

Te Whatu Ora is the host of this event. They will be discussing the priorities they have identified to fund as part of the Interim Health Plan over the next 18 months (Te Pae Tata), followed by a Q&A session at the end.

This is a fantastic opportunity for our members to both take part and be involved with what is occurring in the rural health sector, and the more general primary and community care sectors. You will have the opportunity to put forward any comments or concerns that you have.

I urge you take part if you can. This is one of the few opportunities to interact with the staff of Te Whatu Ora and learn more about the programme and the next steps in its implementation.

For more information about the Primary, Community and Rural Early Actions Programme, please visit the Te Whatu Ora website: Primary, Community, and Rural Early Actions Programme – Te Whatu Ora - Health New Zealand

Ngā mihi nui

Invitation to virtual hui: Primary, Community and Rural Early Actions Programme

Tēnā koutou katoa,

We are inviting you to join us for an online webinar updating you on the Primary, Community and Rural Early Actions programme.

This programme of work has been established to drive some of the early benefits described in Te Pae Tata interim New Zealand Health Plan 2022, to build the foundations of a sustainable, unified health system that better services our communities.

We'll be discussing the key priorities within the programme and the work that is currently underway, including:

- The Equity Adjustment to Capitation
- Workforce Development Funding
- Extended Care in primary and community settings
- Introduction of Comprehensive Primary and Community Care Teams, including the new roles of pharmacist, care co-ordinator, physiotherapist and kaiāwhina.

This webinar is an opportunity for those within the primary, community and rural sector or those who interact with the sector, to get a better idea of what's happening and find out about the next steps and implementation.

There will be a question and answer session at the end.

Date: Tuesday 14 March

Time: 7.00pm - 8.00pm

We hope to see you there. Please feel free to forward this calendar invitation to your colleagues and communities.

Ngā mihi,
Lauren Patheyjohns
On behalf of the Primary, Community and Rural Actions team
